Mutual Evaluation Model

Guiding Principle - People learn best in system of consultative self-evaluation

1. Select for yourself the two action objectives you plan to achieve in the coming year
2. At the end of year, gather a team and share the two objectives you planned to achieve and what the results are.
3. Share three insights that have come to you during the past year
4. Share the one growth objective/competency I plan to grow in myself and how it is proceeding
5. These are the three areas I would value your wisdom as my coaching team
6. Share the two action/growth objectives you have established for coming year
