Day of Remembrance for Indian Boarding Schools

September 30, known as the National Day of Remembrance, is a day to recognize the legacy of the American Indian boarding school system. It is a day to remember the experiences of those children who attended and who did not return. It acknowledges the history of the past and also recognizes how we can move forward together on a path to healing so that no child is forgotten.

The ELCA's Truth and Healing Movement is an opportunity for this church to increase our understanding of our colonizing impacts on Indigenous people in the past and present. The ELCA has offered opportunities to learn, raise awareness and engage in other ways to impact hearts and lives across this church. We believe that the truth, and our knowing and embracing it, is the first step toward healing for all of us. There are a number of resources that can help you learn more.

You can participate by wearing an orange shirt and posting a photo of yourself, members of your congregation or community on social media and using these hashtags: #ELCA #TruthAndHealing #DayOfRemembrance
